

BLOCKBUSTER!

Planet Pursuits presents Blockbuster!

A fun and creative film making event where teams direct and film their very own "brick film" animation block buster. Teams are given a brief for the subject of their films. The theme could be anything from making a short film, documentary, music video, comedy sketch, promotional video or an advert for something specific to the company. Teams then plan their storyboards for their films and assign their team roles, deciding who will be the director and who will be in charge of filming, sound, voice acting and editing.

Armed with tripods, lighting and microphone booms, and with access to our extensive collection of Lego scenery, characters and props, teams then get creative and film their movies. Once the films are "in the can" teams edit their movies using pre-installed apps, where they can zoom, cut, and add film effects such as black and white or speed settings. They can also choose from a bank of sound effects and music to create their soundtrack.

As a fun finale, teams' movies are shown on our large screen. Prizes can be awarded to the winning team, or for outstanding individuals in categories such as best set design, best editing and best voice actors.
