

THE RACE

Creative collaboration!

This highly collaborative, low impact, team build event sees teams compete to build a section of bridge, which collaboratively forms the company race track.

This event seamlessly embraces both the competitive (design and creativity) and collaborative (the track) nature of teams.

Teams are faced with building a section of the track that they will compete over with remote control cars. Whilst each section must conform to exacting standards, it must also be of innovative design, reflecting the teams ambitions and collective creativity.

The event ends with the all highly competitive finale race!
